Planning Survey Determines Urban - Rural Relationship

A market areas and service centres study compiled in Dec. of 1971 by the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission has been published for the use of the towns and centres concerned, including Drayton Valley.

The booklet was an analysis to determine linkage between urban centres of the region, the orientation of rural residents to the urban centres, and the levels of service provided by urban centres.

To best find the answers to such questions, staff of the Edmonton Regional Planning used the household type survey, where people were interviewed through questionnaires to determine where they go in order to use certain facilities.

Questions about use of goods and services were included in order to determine economic and social linkages within the region. Types of functions and services that were listed were indicators of a range from frequently bought or used to rarely bought or used. Questions on frequency of visits to different centres were asked to provide an overall picture of movements, including travel.

The use of Edmonton's services is common throughout the area. In only six of the 127 sub-areas does Edmonton fail to account for a significant portion of all trips made.

According to a graph depicting per centages of all trips reported to various centres, only about five per cent of people in the township centred on Drayton Valley go to Edmonton for their services, while another 95 per cent visit Drayton Valley for theirs.

In three areas, the respondents indicated they used Edmonton's services more than those of the nearest centre offering such fuctions as car or truck sales, doctors, dentists, and a newspaper. These areas include one between Leduc and Drayton Valley, and one between Stony Plain and Drayton Valley. It appears that for residents of these areas, the extra distance to Edmonton is warranted by the already long journey and range of quality and price alternatives in the city.

Residents of the area west of Lake Wabamun show travel patterns split among Drayton Valley, Edmonton, Tomahawk, and Entwistle-Evansburg. The presence of good highways permits alternative uses.

It seemed that a major decision maker for persons was the excellent transportation route of Highway 16 and the amount of high quality local services.

Drayton Valley, with a population of 3,902, was included in the group of centres offering the highest class of functions; that is, doctors, dentists, car or truck sales, and a newspaper; as well as the two other classes of functions including place of work, curling rink, farm machinery sales, fair or place of exhibition, beauty salon, bank, church, grocery store, car or truck service centre, school, and hardware store.

Because of the town's function as a resource centre, Drayton Valley grew quickly in the 1950's and is now very dominant within its service area. It provides the most modern and complete range of services between Stony Plain and Edson.

Conclusions from the survey show that the influence of Edmonton itself is the over-riding and unifying factor within the region. The trends to lower rural population density, improved transportation and expansion of metropolitan influence throughout the region are leading to a more centralized service struc-

Players Get Chance With Swift Current

Three outstanding Drayton Valley junior hockey players will possibly become members of the Swift Current Broncos within the next week.

According to Larry Wall, one of the boys involved, the three have the chance to sign up with the Broncos next week.

Dave Smith, 18-year-old defenseman, and Jim Tucker, 17-year-old goalie, were to have left Jan. 24, while Larry, 18-year-old defenseman, may leave Jan. 28.

Their chance came when the three were offered trial games with Swift Current team at Vancouver, New Westminster, and Victoria Jan. 15 and 16.

Nothing is definite yet, Larry said, as the trip to Swift Current will only be to find out if he will sign or not.

If the boys do sign, their room and board and schooling will be paid for by the team as long as they are junior hockey players.

Larry is as yet undecided, as he would like to attend university here after finishing school.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (of the Calgary Herald)

Politicians are often fond of suggesting that by-elections are significant and reliable indicators of major political trends, particularly when their own party is on the winning side.

Peter Lougheed's Conservative party, for example, can look at their by-election victories in Edmonton-Strathcona East and Edson as omens of the 1971 upset of Social Credit. Hindsight is easy to come by.

And now, the Tory government can refer to the Feb. 14 Stettler by-election as an important test of the new administration's performance in office.

This logic works fine on the surface, but it must be remembered that the Conservatives entered this by-election campaign as favorites to retain the seat which the late Jack Robertson captured last August.

Also, the Lougheed government will not even face the Legislature until the by-election is over and its first legislative program won't have been subject to public scrutiny until after voters in Stettler decide who will represent them in the House.

So the Tories are feeling full of oats as they enter the by-election against a Social Credit organization still off balance from last year's defeat.

The winning Robertson organization, showing strength in every part of the riding, has swung behind the Stettler lawyer Graham Harle in his bid to keep the Constituency represented in the government caucus.

The central Alberta seat has always been served by a government MLA, a tradition which extends back through the days of Liberal, United Farmers of Alberta, and Socred governments.

Stettler switched to the UFA in 1921 when the Liberals were swept out of the office, then followed the provincewide trend to Social Credit in 1935.

In 1971, Mr. Lougheed constantly referred to the seat as bellwether riding. A tory victory there, he contended, would spell Conservative government in Alberta. And he was right.

The by-election, whatever its significance provincially, will undoubtedly focus more on local issues than anything else. Voters will weigh the merits of having an MLA in the government caucus against the value of sending an Opposition member to Edmonton.

Harry Strom's Socreds will work hard to overcome the 300-vote PC margin in the constituency, but they probably will face an uphill battle all the way.

They won't even choose their candidate until Jan. 20, a full eight days after Mr. Harle won the Tory nod over two other contenders at a nominating convention which drew 850 party enthusiastics.

But, as always, by-elections are uncertain things at best and many a political pundit has later regretted his early analysis of a campaign.

Minor Hockey Week

Once again it is that time of year for minor hockey, and we remind our readers of that already well-known slogan "Don't send -- Take your boy to the arena". Young Drayton Valley players got the week underway Friday evening and activities will continue until Saturday.

The local minor hockey association is composed of enthusiastic, hard-working volunteers whose efforts on behalf of local youngsters cannot be measured in hours or dollars. They make it possible for hundreds of our youngsters to take part in Canada's National sport. Every boy in town can have the opportunity to play, and none will be turned away. That's the kind of an organization it is.

More than that, they contribute towards the development not only of stronger bodies, but of healthier minds and better citizens. They keep the youngsters off the streets and engaged in healthy, supervised sport. We do agree with the slogan "To keep a boy out of hot water -- put him on ice". The community has provided the ice, our volunteers do the work to "put him on ice".

While we pause long enough to pay tribute to our minor hockey workers, similar recognition of the thousands of minor hockey volunteers in Canada is taking place right across the country; every municipality in Canada is doing the same thing during Minor Hockey Week.

Minor Hockey Week in Canada is one of several worthwhile projects of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and as a result of the C.A.H.A.'s promotion, volunteer workers across the country are being told their work is appreciated. Some are being made the recipients of testimonial scrolls and plaques, but all are included in the general paeans of praise heard across the nation this big week of minor hockey.

We do so because we agree that minor hockey is an important part of our community life. It is an integral part of the fabric of our community and a major part of the sporting activities of our municipality. We agree it is beneficial to the youngsters, and because it is, it is beneficial to the whole community. We agree in addition to building stronger bodies, minor hockey contributes to the development of better citizens while it is keeping them occupied in a worthwhile endeavor - right at an age when many of them might easily be angaged in pursuits much less acceptable to society.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

1971 brought to politically minded people many interesting situations. 1972 promises to be as good or possibly even better.

The long and arduous contest which will decide whether or not Richard M. Nixon will receive a second mandate for the Presidency of our neighboring nation will begin in earnest in February, and not conclude until November.

Although constitutionally there does not have to be an election until the summer of 1973, many people have advanced the possibility that it will come before.

There is always "election talk." People speculated that there would be one in late 1971. It is popular now to say that it will be either in the coming spring or the following autumn.

Contrary to what some people will tell you, I, as an M.P. on the government side, have no "inside information" as to when an election may be called. I can only speculate with everyone else.

During the early stages of debate on the government's tax reform bill, several opposition spokesmen accused the government of "electioneering". They said that the government wanted to give the people of Canada all the higher exemptions and tax reductions in the bill, then call a quick election to cash in on the popularity that would ensue.

How ironical it was then, that these same people tried to delay the passage of all or parts of that bill. On one hand, they were admitting that the legislation was good enough that the government could fight an election, holding it up as a major and popular achievement, while on the other protesting bitterly over its very concepts.

Irony, however, is no stranger to politics, and no particular party has through the years, maintained a monopoly on that quality.

For all its shortcomings, our political system has brought Canada to the peaceful and proserous place among nations its holds today. Sir Winston Churchill once said of free enterprises, "It is the worst system of economics ever tried--except for all the others." I feel much the same way about the party system.

In a questionnaire that I have sent out to all constituents, I asked for your opinions on this subject and others. I hope that you will respond if you have not done so already.

I want to encourage you to take an interest in political affairs, and to carry your interest to participation. I urge you to become involved in any one of our political parties.

Prime Minister Trudeau has said, "Freedom is not something which is not guaranteed forever. Freedom can wither away in many ways. It can happen through violence, it can happen through anarchy, but it can also happen through a lack of interest of the citizens in the governing their country, and I think our great democracies today are faced by a very difficult challenge."

Only through participation can we meet the challenge.

THE ODDS ARE AGAINST YOU

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor
The Western Review:

I imagine you get many letters to the Editor. I hope you will insert this one as I feel it is a concern and I wonder how many of your readers will agree with me.

Last Monday, my daughter aged six, and I, both suffering from the effects of the flu went to see our doctor at Drayton Valley. Our appointment was at 11 a.m.

We were both given prescriptions , told to have them filled, and to return home as we were both running temperatures.

When I enquired which drug store was open, the receptionist told me it wouldn't be open until 1 p.m.

As it was still before lunch, we drove to Evansburg to have the prescription filled rather than wait 1 1/2 hours for Drayton Valley's drug store to open.

I might add that Evansburg is also closed on Monday, but at least their drug stores stay open.

Why couldn't one drug store be open all day on Monday or at least to coincide with the doctor's offices.

People, like myself, from out of town can't always afford to stick around for 1 1/2 hours for a drug store to open.

Is there nothing that can be done?

Yellowhead School Division Establishes Drug Policy

A committee including students, parents, a school principal, a central office administrator and a Board member have submitted their final brief pertaining to the non-medical use of drugs to the Yellowhead School Board.

The School Board has given the brief its official approval. During the development of the policies and regulations, numerous community organizations and individuals were asked for their opinions. The submissions received were of great value in guiding the thinking of the committee.

POLICY

The Board believes that an essential aspect of an educational program is to tailor it to meet the need of each local school. Therefore, an education program relating to drugs should be developed around the needs of youths, parents, and teachers within the school community.

REGULATIONS

1. The position of the Board is that the supplying or trafficking of solvents, intoxicants, controlled or restricted drugs and narcotics is unlawful, and that all personnel in the school are expected to act as citizens who support the law.
2. A student caught distributing specified drugs within a school shall have his parents notified and be reported to police, and incur immediate suspension pending investigation by school authorities. School personnel should make recommendations to authorities so that needs of the student involved can best be met.
3. If a student is found on school property in illegal possession of drugs as outlined by the board, the substance shall be removed from the student for disposal, and the appropriate action shall be taken by the school authorities, such as informing parents, suspension, consultation with police.
4. Should a student approach anyone on school property seeking help, and is thus found to be in illegal possession of said drugs, the student shall be identified and dealt with in his or her best interest. The illegal substance shall be removed from the student for disposal. It is not necessary to inform the police of the identity of the student.
5. Any illegal substance confiscated shall be disposed of as soon as possible by turning them over to the Medical Doctor of the local health unit or to the police.
6. A student convicted in criminal court for distributing outlined drugs shall not return to regular classes until he and his parents have had the matter reviewed with the principal. A student may be suspended if his behaviour is detrimental to the moral well-being of the school.
7. When a student is found to be undergoing a severe reaction, immediate care of the student shall be taken by notification of parents and by taking him to a hospital or other medical authority.
8. Where a student's abnormal behaviour indicates possible drug use, the school personnel, through the principal, has the obligation to inform parents of this behaviour. Note: At this stage we are informing parents of the behaviour, not the possible drug use.
9. The school in cooperation with parents, should do all possible to focus community resources on to the students, with a view to helping resolve the problems and reasons leading to, and resulting from, the unlawful use of solvents, intoxicants, and controlled or restricted drugs and narcotics.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMMING

1. People, not drugs, should be the basis for any program.
2. The school principal should play a key role in the development of any school project or curriculum program.
3. Drug education should not be approached as a desperate course but be included in an interdisciplinary approach within the present curriculum.
4. When studied as a separate unit within a larger subject area, the study of the non-medical use of drugs should be carefully structured.
5. Parents and other interested adults of the community should be given an opportunity to become involved in the program.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

I have been married over 10 years now. We have four children. My problem is that I have had to take on all responsibility so far as the home is concerned; looking after the children; housework; shopping; keeping the outside decent, etc. My husband figures as long as he goes out to work and pays the bills, that is all that is required of him, and for that fact he has the further opinion that I should really go down on my knees because I don't have to go out to work like so many married women. For the sake of peace and quiet I have mostly put up with this except for the occasional flare-up. This past week-end, however, he ordered me to prepare a lunch so he could watch the football game; then asked me to phone the radio station for some details as to time; then ordered me to write a letter about a bill that was incorrect. I suddenly realized that I was at fault and pretty stupid for allowing these kind of orders to happen, so I blew my top. He left the house and didn't come home until late Sunday full of drink. I was just filled with revulsion and contempt for him, and told him just that. I couldn't keep quiet. This, in turn, triggered him off and he became very violent and struck me, and told me that he was master and nobody told him what to do. This was in front of the children. They were terrified. Now what do I do?

Signed, Frightened

Dear Frightened:

You have struck a vital nerve so far as your husband is concerned. His violent reaction is proof of that. Never put up with the rough stuff again. If he attempts, then see a lawyer at once and lay a charge. But start, also to get some help so that you know what your feelings are now, and whether or not you have enough emotional stability to go on with the marriage. Hopefully, your husband will see that you mean business and start to look at himself, and perhaps admit that he needs help too.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

I am just about at my wits end. I have a family of 6. My husband is a good provider. We have all we need so far as the material things of life go, but he is always criticizing. No matter how I try to please him, there is never a good word. We all help outside if there is help needed, or if he is sick. But if I am sick or not well no one notices it. The children seem to have the same attitude. I have to find their clothes. No one checks their drawers before calling me. According to him, he is the only one who works hard. He talks about everybody. He trusts no one. All his in-laws have something wrong with them. I cannot take this anymore. Is there help for people like this? There is no use to argue with him or try to tell him the true facts. He knows better than any counsellor or doctor or whoever it may be. Maybe there is a little encouragement you can give me. I have a sister who is married to the same kind of person, so two of us will benefit through this.

Signed,
The-End-of-the-Road

Dear The-End-of-the-Road:

This is one of the most difficult traits with which to deal. It stems from the image that some men have of their role as a husband which is that of feeling that you must be the quarter-back calling all the plays instead of realizing that family life is a team-effort. So you don't do any listening but rather do all the talking. If this is your husband's attitude toward you little wonder the children think the same way. This means you are at the beck and call of everyone. Start by calling all the children together and delegating responsibility for their own rooms, clothes, etc. Show them that being at home is a team effort and not one person giving all the orders. When they offer suggestions listen to them, so they know they have a voice in what's going on. If you do this fairly often - the family council I mean - very soon dad will want to do a little listening too and be in on the happier relationships. In the long run, your husband may be willing to take some counselling, but begin here for now.

Wabamun W.I. Plans Program

The Wabamun W.I. held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Miller with 15 members and one visitor who joined later in the afternoon.

The 1972-1973 program was presented to the members and it was then approved, so it looks like a busy time ahead.

A discussion on how to raise funds took place and many ideas came up.

There were slides shown of Scotland, Ireland, and Hawaii by Mrs. R.M. Watt and then Mrs. H. Miller showed slides she had taken at the Senior Citizen's Christmas party, and some other interesting ones as well.

A lunch was served by Mrs. H. Miller and co-hostess Mrs. G. Fuhr. A big birthday cake was also served in honor of Mrs. Fauville, Mrs. R.T. Ward amd Mrs. A. Dobraski who celebrate or have celebrated birthdays in January. The tea prize was won by Mrs. R. T. Ward.

The Big Mail-out has begun.

Tax reform legislation has been approved by Parliament and is now law.

What does tax reform mean to you? How will it affect you?

To answer these questions, the Department is conducting a massive national mailing program. Booklets are now being printed and mailed to all taxpayers as quickly as they come off the press.

The complete mailing will be finished in about four weeks.

All taxpayers will receive at least two booklets—"Highlights for Individuals" and "Valuation Day". These should provide answers to most of your questions.

Some taxpayers will receive additional information, according to their specific needs.

Read your booklets. Afterwards, if you have questions, ask us. We'll be glad to help.

You will find that your booklets will make it easier to file your income tax return in 1973, because they will help you to prepare now.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Mrs. Don McKenzie's father, Mr. James Millar, passed away suddenly at his home in Calgary. The Millars and the McKenzies had just returned from a holiday spent in Hawaii. Mr. Millar appeared to be in good health and his sudden passing was a shock to his family and friends. Please accept our sincere sympathy, Mrs. McKenzie.

Little Diane Poloway is home after a few days in hospital where she parted company with her appendix.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Hogarth and family returned from Hawaii last week sporting gorgeous tans. When the Hogarth plane landed in Vancouver on the return trip they had to dash to catch the last flight into Edmonton before the strike. Because of the strike Miss Barbara Hogarth, who is attending college in Wales, and had been home for Christmas recess, had to catch a bus to Great Falls, Montana, and then a flight overseas.

Our sympathy is with the family of Mrs. John Metzger. Mrs. Metzger passed away last week. She had poor health for some time.

It was a pleasure to hear from Mrs. Margret Haynes, nee Cameron, last week. It will be remembered that Margret is very fond of singing and took part in all the choral groups here as well as doing a good deal of solo performing. Margret lives in Red Deer now and is back at her favorite pastimes. She sings with a group known as the Triads and has appeared several times on T.V. The Triads have taped a number for Country Music which will be shown on Jan. 29. Margret would be pleased to think that some of her friends from Drayton Valley are in the audience.

Mrs. Norman McKinlay was well enough to leave hospital last week and hopes to be back at work very soon.

Mr. Guy Watson, who lived in this district at one time, passed away in Edmonton last week. Mrs. Dudley Edmunds of Rocky Rapids is a cousin.

Winners for the Legion Auxiliary Whist Party were: High--Laura Barker and Shirley Cornach; Low--Rose Pare and M. Durhan. Floater winner--Eileen Aston. The next whist drive will be held in the Legion Hall on February 13 and everyone is welcome.

One sure sign of spring is here. The seed catalogues have started to arrive.

Lake Wabamun Ecology Study

The environment department will conduct an engineering study of the environmental consequences of power generation at Lake Wabamun.

Environment Minster William Yurko said the study will evaluate the consequences of present and future thermal power generating stations on the lake, effectiveness of present waste water treatment facilities, and any adverse effects of waste water on the lake.

The study will also look at the economics of providing cooling facilities for heated water poured into the lake and any environmental effects of the use of cooling towers or ponds.

Mr. Yurko said the study will determine the feasibility of pumping water from the North Saskatchewan River for cooling purposes and lake level stabilization.

Heated water entering the lake has been cited as one cause for heavy weed growth.

Mr. Yurko said the study was ordered "because the government is committed to preserving Lake Wabamun as a major recreational area and the water quality and lake environment must be maintained as a high standard."

Besides the consequences of thermal power production near Lake Wabamun, the study will identify water polution sources from industry, towns, cottages, summer villages, and agriculture and will recommend corrective measures.

Monitoring Results To be Available

Results of air, water and industrial waste samplings in Alberta will be made public as soon as they are available, the Hon. W.J. Yurko, Minister of the Environment, has announced.

Mr. Yurko noted that his was in line with his promise to end the secrecy and confidentiality which has characterized pollution monitoring.

Mr. Yurko explained that this department's Information Division will issue news releases outlining the survey results. Included will be results of air pollution monitoring in Calgary and Edmonton, and water pollution and industrial waste monitoring on the North Saskatchewan, Bow, Oldman, and Red Deer Rivers.

The reports will be issued monthly, following completion of laboratory analysis of the samples.

The Department will also issue a schedule for the locations of the mobile air monitoring trailers which are used extensively throughout the province. The public will be invited to view the operation of the trailers, and results from local monitoring will be released as soon as they become available.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

This past week saw the grade 4 and grade 6 classes write the Canadian Tests of Basic Skills. The main purpose of these tests is to determine how well each pupil has mastered the basic skills. The following areas are tested: vocabulary; reading comprehension; language skills (spelling, capitalization, punctuation and word usage); word study skills (map reading, reading graphs and tables, knowledge and use of reference materials); Mathematic skills.

These tests are machine scored in Edmonton and results will be available to the teachers soon. Results help to measure pupil growth from year to year. They help the teachers to compare our pupils with those from other schools. They also aid the teacher in diagnosing remedial areas.

The various "bugs and germs" that have been making their rounds of the community have also claimed teachers among their victims. The past three weeks have illustrated only too well the need for substitute teachers. There have been days when as many as six subs have been in the school. To you, the unsung heros we say "THANKS". Our subs this year are: Mrs. Fanny Davey, Mrs. Marilyn DesBrisay, Mrs. Gail Grotowski, Mrs. Zen Heyday, Mrs. Grace Landers, Mrs. Martha Lepp, Mrs. Lil Mayhew, Mrs. Vivian Robinson, Mrs. Anne Sware, Mrs. Peggy Tyler, Mrs. Florence Vanstone and Mrs. Judy Hill.

YOUR IMPORTANT FAMILY DOCUMENTS AND PAPERS

According to statistics, women outlive men, three out of four Canadian women today will probably outlive their husbands. Not only that, but the majority of them leave all important family business and personal matters entirely up to the husband which is a grave mistake. Women can save themselves money, time and added grief by being informed and prepared for widowhood. At a short course held last year the lawyer who participated in a symposium of "Family Business Matters" said that women are poorly informed on farm, business and family matters. He also mentioned that administration of the entire estate is slow (which costs money) because the widow is not informed. Husbands should make their wives aware of all business matters. Family documents and papers that you will need now, or in the future are as follows:

HOUSING RECORDS

1. Real Estate--Buying land or a house is more than likely the most expensive investment in your lifetime. The papers regarding deed, abstract title and martgage (s) should be kept in a safe place.

2. Household Inventory--Do any of you know how much you have spent on all your furniture, appliances, clothing, cookware, etc.? A list of all these is required for your net worth statement as well.

A list of all your possessions would also come in handy to claim fire insurance should fire strike your house. Here's a case illustration. A hairdresser in one community left on a three-week holiday two years ago. While she was away her shop and living quarters burned. When she returned, the insurance company asked her for a list of all her household equipment and personal possessions. To begin with, she never had a list compiled and secondly, she could not remember everything she owned. Furthermore, she remodelled the shop which cost $2,000 but did not renew her fire insurance policy to cover the added cost.

3. Net Worth Statement--The important record that every family or individual should have is a net worth statement. Your net you own; from this you subtract everything you owe and you have a net worth. Make a list of everything you own such as savings in the bank, bonds, stock, House (principle), car and household possessions. Then you should subtract this from your debts, for example loan on car, credit in stores and martgage(s). Your net worth is a record of what you own and what you owe. These records, in particular, are important and needed to settle an estate after a husband dies. You can tell from your net worth whether you are going uphill or downhill financially.

4. Family Spending Records--Do you know how much you spend for household and family living expenses? Assuming that the average family spends $3,600/year for household and family living expenses in 10 years you would spend $36,000. In 20 years this would amount to $72,000. This is a lot of dough, and I don't mean bread dough, either. Mind you, the amount you spend will vary somewhat from year to year depending on your income, size of family, and age. Records of your spending shows you what it costs you to live. They are also essential if you want to work out a cash balance summary. A cash balance sumimary is an account of total cash coming in which should equal total cash going out.

Auxiliary Plan Heavy Schedule

The last meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary was held Jan. 13 in the Nurses' Residence, with 10 members present.

A talk was given by Marge Edwards on making bazaar items for the next bazaar. She also suggested that we make up kits for hospital patients to work on when patients are confined to hospital for a long period of time.

If there are any patients who would like to do this type of work, would they please contact any of the canteen workers. Work parties are to be held in the Nurses' Residence the last Thursday of each month; the first one to be held Jan. 27 at 1:30 p.m. All members and associate members are welcon e to attend.

Heart fund campaign is coming up in February and Ann Eustace will be contacting everyone to assist in canvassing.

The Auxiliary also has a bake sale coming up on Feb. 11 with proceeds to go to the Purple Pansy Senior Citizens' Fund.

Also, a wordabout the forthcoming rummage sale. We are, as usual, always grateful for any contributions we receive and would like to point out that any rummage that is left over will go to the Town Hall to help the needy and also to the Salvation Army. So. it is all for good causes and nothing is wasted.

Next meeting will be Feb. 10 and for more information please phone 542-3252.

Challengers Win Bantam Tourney

Minor Hockey Week got underway at the Drayton Valley Civic Centre Friday, Jan. 21 with Mayor Lloyd MacLean dropping the puck to start the Midget game between the Drayton Valley Clippers and the Ponoka Lions.

However, Minor Hockey activities really got rolling Saturday when the Bantam A tournament was held. Bantam teams from Barrhead, Leduc, and Edson participated in this tournament, along with the Burrows Motors Challengers.

The first game between Edson and Barrhead got underway at 1:25 p.m. Although statistics show that shots in goal were only one apart, the score itself was rather one-sided with Barrhead winning 12-3. Neuman of Barrhead scored five goals, while Hamilton scored twice and assisted on three. Bezushko, McLillan, Manz, and O'Brien with two goals rounded out the Barrhead scoring, while Edson's goals were notched by Bright, Hinko, and Bawol.

In the second game, the Chalengers outshot Leduc 33-18 and came out victorious with a score of 10-2. The Challengers were sparked by two three-goal performances by Wilson and Koebernick. Hook added two more and singles went to Schadeck and Swendseid. Rowe got both Leduc's goals, assisted by Stroud on each one.

Leduc beat Edson in the third game by a score of 5-1, in a contest which was a little more evenly matched. Leduc's Bob Young got two goals and one assist to help lead his team to victory, while singles went to Stroud, Hogan, and Woodlund. Edson's lone marker was tallied by Fedchuk.

The final game of the tournament got underway at 7:05 p.m. between Barrhead and the Challengers and turned out to be a terrific contest from start to finish.

After three full periods the teams were locked in a 4-4 deadlock. Excitement was high throughout the first 10 minutes overtime period which saw both teams score two goals each.

In the second overtime period, both goalies were pulled and each team played with six attackers. Hook scored for the Challengers at the 15-second mark to end the hectic contest.

McRae made several terrific saves for the Challengers during the game, especially during the first overtime period.

Tomahawk Pioneer Passes

A pioneer of the Tomahawk district, Mrs. Ottilie Reich, 91, widow of William Reich, died Wednesday.

A native of Russia, she and her husband emigrated to Canada with their small family in 1914 just before the start of the First World War.

After a few days in Edmonton they settled in the Tomahawk district on a homestead, and remained there until their deaths. Mr. Reich died in 1959.

QUESTION

What is the policy in the County of Parkland in relation to the operation of buses during severe weather conditions? How do parents know whether buses will run or not?

ANSWER

The policy in the County is based on the premise that parents and bus drivers in the different areas of the County are in the best position to know the local weather and road conditions, and therefore decisions are made at the local level. Parents decide whether to send their children on the bus, and bus drivers decide whether the driving conditions warrant bus cancellation or early departure from school. If the buses do run the parents still have the privilege of keeping the children home. The following is the complete statement of policy and regulations:

POLICY

When weather conditions warrant, schools may close and a change in routine bus scheduling is permitted."

REGULATIONS

(1) Early Dismissal

(a) When weather conditions are such as to make probable a change in routine bus schedule, it shall be the responsibility of the bus driver to contact the Principal of the school (s) concerned to advise on road oonditions and be advised of any impending change in bus scheduling.

(b) The Principal shall communicate directly with the bus drivers concerned in order to convey pupils home in a prompt and safe manner.

(c) The Principal shall notify the Superintendent who shall arrange for an announcement of early closing to be made over C.J.C.A.; C.F.R.N.; C.H.Q.T.

(2) Overnight

(a) When weather conditions overnight are such as to make probable school closure, it shall be the responsibility of the bus drivers to contact the Principal(s) concerned.

(b) The Principal shall communicate with the Superintendent.

(c) The Superintendent shall be empowered to close a school or schools.

(d) An official announcement shall be made over C.J.C.A. C.F.R.N.; C.H.Q.T.; C.T.V.; and C.B.C. - T.V..

QUESTION

If a child informs his parents about an irregular or unusual situation in regards to the school he is attending, what course of action should be taken by the parent in order that the situation will be checked out and possibly rectified?

ANSWER

It is difficult to provide an answer when you have not outlined the specific nature of the situation but as a general rule it is advisable to contact the principal of the school to check on the accuracy of the information first. If the situation exists and is considered detrimental to the education of children in the school, you should discuss with the principal and (or) the teacher what steps may be taken to correct the problem. In the event that you are not satisfied with the steps taken, you should contact the office of the Superintendent of Schools, and, if necessary, ask that the situation be reviewed at the School Committee level. If you are still dissatisfied about the situation, then your next recourse is to contact the office of the Minister of Education and request an investigation. Usually most problems can be solved at the school or classroom level, but parents should be aware of the various avenues of appeal available to them as noted above.

Magnolia News

Two of our former residents, Gayland and Dorothy June of B.C. spent the Christmas week renewing acquaintances in the community.

This community is justly proud of one of its young gentlemen. Kevin Strangway won a trophy, pin and a check for $25.00 in recognition the best all round student in Grade Nine at Entwistle. Congratulations.

Mrs. Ray Storms had her three daughters, complete with families, home for New Year's. They took turns visiting with Mr. Storms who at that time was ill in the Drayton Valley Hospital. All who know Mr. Storms are very happy to know he is home and feeling considerably better.

Quite a number of the local boys are once again playing hockey. Larry Johnson, Kevin Strangway and Peter Hampton play with the Midgets while Marvin Stangway and Clive Hampton are with the Bantams. Grant Gilbert, Rodney Strangway, Dennis Johnson and Vernon Thomeus play for the Mites. Dean Strangway has been coaching the later team.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson entertained their entire family on New Year's Day.

Cecil and Marie June entertained the following folks on New Year's day: Jessie and Ernie Williams and Lorne, Catherine and Richard Charlet; Carol and Lenny Johnson with their two sons; and Sheana Clark of Wetaskiwin. Also home were Clynne, Maxine and Devron.

The Allen Walker family were entertained by Grace Anderson and family of Stony Plain on January 1st.

New Year's guests at the D. Strangway home were the Whales of Edmonton, Alvin and Jean Knudelien and family and Kenny Anderson. Dean has now left for two months work at the Lakehead.

Orris and Dorothy McWillis spent New Year's day with Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Smith.

Several young ladies from this area are taking judo lessons at Seba Beach. These are not a part of their school work. The girls seem to be very enthusiastic about the judo lessons and exercises. Purse snatchers, beware!

The Sperling family spent Christmas in Edmonton with Mrs. Pearson, Ruth's mother, and New Year's day quietly at home. Ruth has been ill, but glad to hear that she is improving. Deveron Mosier from the United States has spent about two weeks during Christmas and New Years with the Sperlings.

The first whist party of the New Year was held at the home of Dean and Betty Strangway on Saturday, January 7th. There were enough players to use eight tabl The two travelling prizes were won by Al Roth and Ruby Brown. Danny Roth won first playing as a lady. Audrey Deardoft of Entwistle took second and consolation went to Fay Kidner. Len Williams was the lucky first for the gentlemen while Tom Thomeus took second. Clarence Willoughby won the consolation.

ANALYZE FARM RECORDS FOR FARM IMPROVEMENT

What you always wanted to know about your farm but were afraid to find out. Analysis of farm records and follow-up on improvements that the analysis suggests could take a farm from borderline failure to success.

The process is this: producers submit their 1971 financial and production records on forms which are organized for analysis.

The records are then sent to our farm management office where they are coded for computer processing. The Processed records are then sent back to the District Agriculturist who take them to the producer for interpretation.

We go over the records together to see what changes can be made to improve the farm business. If there is a technical problem with facilities or equipment, you can call on the services of a regional engineer, livestock or crops specialist.

The final decision and action is left to you. You can get an analysis of your total business or separate enterprises. In addition, beef hog feeders may get an analysis of all the different feeder groups they put through - up to ten lots.

What is the value of this program? First, to evaluate the farm's performance; secondly, to pin-point places where improvements can be made; and thirdly, to provide useful information for farm planning.

Public Speaking Planned by Club

January 16th to 22nd was National Basketball Week in Canada and so say the Senior teams at Frank Maddock High School - Victory was the name of the game on Friday at Paul Kane in St. Albert. The Senior girls came home with a 38 - 14 win, while the boys pulled out a 35 - 33 win.

The high scorers in the girls game were Charlene Wilkes with 10 and Cheryl Daviduk with 7. Barry Swap captained his team with 16 points, and was assisted by Gerald Dusterhoff with 13.

The teams have a weekend off this January 28th due to school examinations. But February finds them hard at work, and on the road with a February 4th game in Stony Plain and February 5th at a toumament in Edson. Both teams aim to increase their league winnings and improve their present standings 2 - 1.
